

August 25, 2009

I hired Ben Kern and his crew (Dan, Andrew, Brian, and Rob) of College Painters to paint the trim and windows of my home and a rental property that I own. My rental property was in desperate need of paint with essentially bare wood windows and outside doors, no glazing of windows and two porches that were badly peeling. And I was very particular and picky about everything that was done on my own home.

From start to finish, Ben and his four man crew were courteous and professional. Ben gave me an upfront complete estimate and when I later changed my mind what I wanted done, he politely and cooperatively updated my estimate and worked with me 100% of the whole time. Dan, Andrew, Brian, and Rob all kindly gave me their recommendations and suggestions about what they thought were the best way to proceed when difficult situations came up. Then they listened totally to what I wanted and without the bat of an eyelash went to work to make it happen! The whole team kept me constantly informed every step of the way and constantly sought my approval of everything they did. Their integrity, professionalism, and work ethic are outstanding. Each of these young men is the best America has to offer and the future of our country.

The finished job was proof positive of the commitment and dedication of these men to their work. All work was exceptional in quality and looked outstanding. It was a total 100% transformation of my properties!!! These men did a fantastic job for a very fair price. I can unequivocally give Ben and the guys my highest recommendation and praise. I appreciate so very much all they have done for me and I wish them the absolute best in the future. They are all outstanding individuals.
